Kenneth Bambridge

Education

Period	September 2012 – May 2014
Degree	Bachelor's in Computer Engineering and Computer Science
GPA	3.74/4.0 with 101 credits
University	Rutgers School of Engineering New Brunswick, New Jersey
	Involved in Rutgers Mobile Application Development (RuMAD), United Student Association for Computer Science (USACS) and IEEE. Withdrew after 2 years to work on Zoku Inc. (see below)

Work Experience

Zoku	Co-Founder (Current)
>	Co-founded Zoku Inc., we created a mobile app that discovers people around you (within 300') that have the same interests as you do using Bluetooth LE.
Nextdoor	Software Engineering Intern (Summer 2013)
>	Interned on the mobile team at Greylock-funded company Nextdoor. Work ranged from developing user-facing view controllers to adding new mobile apis to support features being implemented on the web client.

Projects

iOS App	Daily Targum Mobile
>	Co-developing with a partner the new official iOS app for the Rutgers University school newspaper to display articles from a database in a clean UI.
phonesma.sh	Finalist at Greylock Hackfest 2013
>	Finalist at Greylock hackathon with project that used node and socket.io create a game where users would comptete by trying to throw their iPhones in the air for a longest time–www.phonesma.sh
HackRU	Where O Where
>	2nd place at HackRU with a web app that finds location of images on google maps using images pulled from Google Street View.
Flask	Prank Roulette
>	Prank Roulette, which allows people to type in two phone numbers and route the calls together for a fun prank–www.prankroulette.com

Skills

Confident Computer Languages	Objective-C
Familiar Languages	MATLAB, C, LaTeX, Python, Java, Javascript
Technologies/Tools	Vim, UNIX, Node, MongoDB
Other	Jazz Piano

8 Fox Chase Turn · Pittstown · New Jersey 08867
github.com/k
LinkedIn
✉ kbambridge1@gmail.com ☎ (908) 528-7844